Markus Muntean, * 1962 in Graz, Austria

Adi Rosenblum, * 1962 in Haifa, Israel

live and work in Vienna, Austria

The Austrian-Israeli artist duo Muntean/Rosenblum became internationally known for their socially critical pictures with mostly young protagonists, in which classical, figurative painting or drawing is combined with text captions. Composed like posters and collages, the works often depict lost or lonely teenagers and young adults who appear bored, lonely or at a loss. In their paintings, drawings, performances or video works, Muntean/Rosenblum deal intensively with pathos formulas from art history and with the questioning of how emotions and affects expressed in this way are articulated and interpreted differently in different epochs.
